

Agile on the Beach Terms and Conditions

Cancellations and Refunds

Participants must confirm in writing if they no longer wish to attend. No refund will be given if the participant has not informed the organisers of the cancellation in writing prior to the event.

If a participant is unable to attend, a substitute may participate in their place providing this is done at least 72 hours before the event. This can be managed online in the participants Bizzabo account.

For changes after this time contact the organisers in writing and we will levy a £25 + VAT administration fee.

In the event of cancellation by the participant we will refund 50% of ticket value for cancellations received more than 30 days before the event but no refund will be given if cancellation occurs less than 30 days before the event.

The organisers reserve the right to alter the event programme without notice and to cancel the event. In the unlikely event that the event is cancelled a full refund of participants' conference fees will be given. Agile on the Beach will not be liable for any other costs borne by the participant in any case.
